Contents

1. Boyhood and Education, 1618—1634 1—7
   Birth and childhood, 1—Education, 2—Fights an elephant, 5—His first mansab, 7.

2. The Bundela War, 1635 8—16
   The Bundela clan, 8—Bir Singh and Jhujhar of Urchha, 8—Shah Jahan’s war against Jhujhar, 10—Pursuit of Jhujhar; extinction of his family, 12—Urchha temple turned into a mosque, 15—Bundelas of Mahoba keep up opposition, 15.

3. First Viceroyalty of the Deccan, 1636—1644 17—30
   The Mughals enter the Deccan, 17—Activity in Deccan conquest under Shah Jahan, 18—Terms of peace with Bijapur, 20—Mughal Provinces in the Deccan, 22—Capture of Udgir and Ausa, 23—Shahji Bhonsle forced to submit, 24—Exactions from the Gond Rajahs, 26—Baglana conquered, 27—Other incidents of Aurangzib’s first viceroyalty of the Deccan, 29.

4. Marriage and Family—Viceroyalty of Gujrat 31—45
   Persian princes in India marry into Mughal royal family, 31—Aurangzib married to Dilras Banu Begam, 31—Aurangzib’s wives, 33—Zainabadi, his mistress: his youthful romance, 35—Aurangzib’s children, 37—Jahanara burnt, 39—Aurangzib’s dismissal: its cause, 41—Aurangzib is reinstated and sent to Gujrat, 43—Aurangzib’s strong rule in Gujrat, 44.

5. The war in Central Asia, 1647 46—62
   Balkh and Badakhshan: the countries and their history, 46—Nomadic raiders of Trans-Oxiana, 47—Nazar Muhammad, knig of Balkh, deposed, 49—Indian invasion of Badakhshan and Balkh, 51—Aurangaib sent as viceroy of Balkh, renews war, 53—Incessant fighting with the hovering Uzbaks, 56—Hardships of the Mughals; Aurangzib’s cool courage, 58—Peace with Nazir Muhammad, 59—Sufferings during the return from Balkh, 60—Mughal losses in the war, 61.
History of Aurangzib

6. Governorship of Multan and Sindh, 1648—1652
Aurangzib's viceroyalty of Multan, 63—Aurangzib punishes lawless Baluch tribes, 65—He develops the trade of Sindh, 68.

7. First Siege of Qandahar, 1649
The district of Qandahar: its physical aspects, 70—Qandahar: its strategic and commercial importance, 71—Past history of Qandahar, 72—Shah II recovers Qandahar from Mughals, 73—First Mughal Siege of Qandahar, 77—Fortification and environs of Qandahar, 77—Aurangzib besieges Qandahar, 79—Fighting with the Persians, 81.

8. Second Siege of Qandahar, 1652
Preparations for the second siege of Qandahar, 83—Dispositions of the besiegers, 84—Bad gunnery of the Indians, 87—Emperor orders retreat from before Qandahar, 89—Bitter correspondence between Shah Jahan and Aurangzib on the failure, 90—Causes of the failure at Qandahar, 91—Cost of the three sieges that failed, 92.

9. Second Viceroyalty of the Deccan, 1653—1658
Aurangzib goes to the Deccan: his journeys and hunt, 94—Early examples of his religious bigotry, 95—City of Aurangabad described, 96—Decay and misery of Mughal Deccan: its causes, 97—Financial difficulties of Aurangzib in the Deccan, 100—The diwans of the Deccan, 104—Murshid Quli Khan: his character and revenue system, 105—Improvements made in the Deccan administration by Aurangzib, 107—Causes of Aurangzib's differences with the Emperor, 110—The Gond kingdoms of the Central Provinces: expedition against Deogarh, 113—Invasion of the Jawhar State, 115.

10. Invasion of Golkonda, 1656
Golkonda booty, 134—Quarrel with Golkonda about the Karnatak remains open, 136—Old Rajah of the Karnatak seeks Mughal protection, 138.

Appendix I

11. War with Bijapur, 1657

Appendix II

Appendix III

12. The illness of Shah Jahan, 1657

13. Murad Bakhsh crowns himself

Murad Bakhsh: his character, 182—Ali Naqi, wazir of Murad, murdered, 183—Murad sends an army to plunder Surat, 184—Murad forms an alliance with Aurangzib against Dara, 186—Murad sits on the throne at Ahmadabad, 188—Aurangzib’s cautious policy and Murad’s impatient zeal, 190—Intrigue with Persia, 191—Terms of partnership between Aurangzib and Murad, 191—Murad marches out of Gujrat and joins Aurangzib, 193.

14. Aurangzib advances from the Deccan, 1658

Aurangzib’s anxieties before the war of succession, 195—Aurangzib
History of Aurangzeb

is forced to choose between two evils: to lose his chance for the crown; or to lose all the gains of the Bijapur war, 196—Mir Jumla sent to get Parenda fort, 197—Aurangzeb retreats from Kalian and Bidar to Aurangabad, 198—He waits in uncertainty for news of Shah Jahan’s condition, 200—Mir Jumla returns after failing to get delivery of Parenda fort, 201—Aurangzeb’s preparation for the war of succession, 203—Aurangzeb’s distraction, 204—Aurangzeb invites Mir Jumla to his side to help in preparing for war, 206—Aurangzeb conciliates the king of Golconda, 208—Aurangzeb tries to buy the friendship of Adil Shah, 209—Aurangzeb intriguess with the nobles at Court and the generals, 211—His band of able officers, 212—He openly marches northward to contest the throne, 213—Aurangzeb crosses the Narmada and joins Murad, 215.

15. Battle of Dharmat, 15 April, 1658 219 — 235

16. Battle of Samugarh, 29 May, 1658 236 — 253

Dara assembles a new army after Dharmat, 236—Shah Jahan’s plans and advice, 237—Dara reaches Samugarh, 239—The rival armies at Samugarh, 240—Battle of Samugarh, 243—Rajput attacks on Murad and Aurangzeb, 245—Dara’s own movements at Samugarh, 247—Rout of Dara’s army, 249—Heavy loss on Dara’s side, 251.

17. Capture of Agra Fort & Captivity of Murad Bakhsh, June 1658 254 — 273

Scenes in Agra after Samugarh, 254—Shah Jahan’s message to defeated Dara, 254—Dara’s flight from Agra to Delhi, 256—Aurangzeb arrives outside Agra, 256—Shah Jahan’s negotiations with Aurangzeb for a peaceful settlement, 257—Aurangzeb besieges his father in Agra Fort, 261—Agra fort capitulates: Shah Jahan made prisoner, 263—Aurangzeb openly exercises the imperial authority and takes control of the government, 265—Murad grows jealous of Aurangzeb, 266—Aurangzeb invites Murad to a feast, 269—Murad is treacherously made prisoner by Aurangzeb, 270—Murad’s captive life in Gwalior fort, 272—Murad is accused of the murder of Ali Naqi, and beheaded by sentence of the qazi, 273.
18. The pursuit of Dara Shukoh through the Panjab and Sindh,
June—November, 1658 274—289

Fugitive Dara's doings at Delhi, 274—Dara's military preparations at Lahor; he holds the line of the Satlej, 275—Aurangzib at Delhi, 276—Aurangzib crowns himself Emperor, 277—Pursuit of Dara towards Lahor; his despair; treachery and desertion in his army, 279—Dara abandons Lahor for lower Sindh, 280—Aurangzib leads the pursuit from Lahor up to Multan, 282—Dara's movement in the Indus valley, 282—Pursuit of Dara from Multan, 283—Dara's miserable condition, 284—Pursuit of Dara to Schwan, 286—Dara leaves Sindh for Gujrat, 288.

19. Shuja's struggles for the Throne—Battle of Khajwa (5 January, 1659) 290—308

Shuja advances to contest the succession, 290—Sulaiman Shukoh surprises Shuja near Benares, 291—Flight of Shuja; sufferings of his men, 292—Shuja's treaty with Sulaiman Shukoh, 294—Shuja's second advance towards Delhi, 295—Aurangzib's return from the Panjab to meet Shuja, 296—The rival armies at Khajwa, 298—Jaswant's treacherous attack on Aurangzib's Camp, 299—Battle of Khajwa, 302—Rout of Shuja's army, 306—Criticism of tactics, 308.

20. Battle of Deoral (Ajmir), 12th—14th March, 1659 309—323

21. The end of Dara Shukoh 324—341

Miserable flight of Dara from Ajmir to Gujrat, 324—Dara's flight through Cutch to Sindh, 326—Jai Singh's pursuit of Dara through Gujrat & Cutch, 327—Jai Singh crosses the Greater Rann: sufferings of his army, 329—Dara hesitates to flee to Persia, 332—Death of Dara's wife, 333—Dara is treacherously made prisoner by Malik Jiwon, 334—Captive Dara is brought to Delhi, 335—Dara in chains paraded through Delhi with insult, 336—Dara sentenced to death as a heretic, 337—Murder of Dara 339.

22. The end of Sulaiman Shukoh . 342—350

Sulaiman Shukoh hastens to return to Dara, 342—Sulaiman
History of Aurangzib

marches from Allahabad to Hardwar, 343—Sulaiman flees to the Garhwal Rajah, 345—Aurangzib invades Garhwal to secure the surrender of Sulaiman, 347—Captive Sulaiman before Aurangzib, 349—Sad end of Sulaiman, 350.

23. The pursuit of Shuja and the war in Bihar 351—369
Shuja’s retreat from Khajwa, pursued by Mir Jumla, 351—Mir Jumla’s turning movement at Sahibganj, 353—Alawardi Khan’s plot: he is put to death, 356—Mir Jumla occupies Rajmahal, 357—The relative strength of the rival forces, 359—Mir Jumla’s first coup, 360—Mir Jumla’s third coup fails with heavy loss, 362—Prince Muhammad discontented, flees to Shuja, 363—Rajmahal water-locked, is recaptured by Shuja, 365—Shuja’s advance towards Murshidabad, 366—Mir Jumla gives chase to Shuja, 368.

24. The end of Shuja 370—379
The military situation in Bengal in 1660, 370—Mir Jumla advances on Malda, 372—Shuja’s flight from Malda to Dacca, 374—Shuja’s flight from Dacca to Arracan, 375—The end of Shuja, 378.

25. Grand enthronement of Aurangzib 380—387
The extraordinary grandeur of Aurangzib’s Coronation, 380—Emperor’s grand procession through Delhi, 381—Appearance of Aurangzib, 382—Decoration of the Diwan-i-am, 383—Aurangzib mounts the throne, 384—Emperor holds a court in the harem, 385—Illuminations and festivals, 386.