49. A survey of the last eighteen years

The tragedy of Aurangzib’s life, how developed, 1—His movements during his last 20 years, 3—The Maratha recovery 1690-91, 5—The fighting during 1692 and 1693, 6—He realises his hopeless position, 8—His stay at Islampuri, 1695-1699, 9—His last campaigns 1699-1705, 10—Sorrow and misery of his last years, 12—The end of Aurangzib.

50. Operations in Western Deccan During 1688-1695

Maratha ministers and generals at the accession of Rajaram, 15—Rajaram’s position and policy, 16—Aurangzib’s successes and policy during 1689, 19—Maratha recovery: capture of Rustum Khan, May, 1690, 21—Panhala won and lost by Mughals, 21—Fruitless siege of Panhala 1692.94, 24—Bidar Bakht against Panhala, 1694-95, 27—Campaigns near Satara, 1690, 28—Operations during 1691 and 1692, 30—Struggle against Santaji Ghorpare and Dhanaji Jadhav 1693.94, 32—Minor operations till end of 1695, 34—Santaji Ghorpare’s movements, 1694-95, 35—Appendix A: Rajaram’s flight to Jinji.

51. The Conquest of Madras Karnatak,

History of Aurangzb

ists retreat to Wandiwash, 70—Emperor's treatment of Kam Bakhsh and Asad Khan, 72—Operations during 1693, 74—Mughal successes against the Tanjore Rajah 1694, 75—Zulfiqar's difficulties 1695, 78—Operations during 1696, 80—Operations during 1697: Siege renewed, 81—Fall of Jinji fort and escape of Rajaram, 83.

52. Struggle with Marathas During 1695-1700
Qasim Khan marches against Santa Ghorpare, 86—Santa defeats Qasim Khan, 87—Qasim Khan flees to Dodderi fort, 90—Capitulation of Mughal force in Dodderi, 91—Santa slays Himmat Khan at Basavapatan, 93—Mughal force at Basavapatan relieved, 94—Military arrangements during 1696, 95—Civil war between Santa and Dhana, 97—Defeat and Death of Santa, 98—Character of Santa Ghorpare, 99—Events in Maharashtra during 1698, 101—Rajaram's doings during 1699, 102—Last Expedition of Rajaram, 103—Death of Rajaram, 105—Tara Bai, Widow of Rajaram, 105.

53. The Mughal-Maratha struggle in Konkan 1680-1704

54. Aurangzib Besieges Maratha Forts, 1700-1704
Aurangzib's arrangements on leaving Islampuri, 123—Aurangzib begins the siege of Satara, 124—Fighting before and around Satara, 125—Attempts's to storm Satara fail, 127—Satara capitulates, 21st April, 1700, 128—Parli besieged, 128—Hardships of the imperialists, 129—Imperial camp at Khawaspur flooded, 131—Siege of Panhala, 1701, 133—Panhala gained by bribery, 136—Maratha activities during the siege of Panhala, 136—March to Khelna, 138—Siege of Khelna, 140—Fathullah's heroic efforts: fall of Khelna, 142—Sufferings of Mughal army during return from Khelna, 1702, 144—Siege of Kondaña (Sinhgad) 1703, 145—Capture of Raigarh and Torna, 1704.
55. Internal History of the Marathas 149—163

Ramchandra Nilkantha, the Regent of the West, 1689-1697, 149—Rajaram's policy and doings at Jinji, 150—Maratha system of guerrilla warfare, 151—Mutual jealousies of the Maratha ministers and generals: factions formed, 152—Internal dissensions in the Maratha State, 155—Shahu's captive life, 1689-1707, 156—Notable Maratha chiefs on Aurangzib's side, 159.

56. The Capture of Wagingera, 1705 164—180

57. The Last Phase 1705-1707 181—204

Desolation of the country caused by Aurangzib's wars, 181—Maratha raiders dominant throughout the Deccan, 182—Causes of the dissolution of government, 183—Famine and chronic scarcity of grain, 184—Maratha system of spoliation described, 185—Changes in Maratha equipment and tactics, 186—Aurangzib encamps at Devapur, 187—Illness of Aurangzib at Devapur, 188—Imperial camp marches to Ahmadrnagar, 1706, 190—Sorrow and despair of Aurangzib's last years, 190—Imperial dominions harassed by Marathas, 1706-1707, 192—Notable Maratha victories, 1706, 193—Azam's plan for murdering Kam Bakhsh, 195—Emperor sends his sons away from him, 196—Last illness and death, 197—Appendix 198.

58. The war in Rajputana, 1681-1707 205—223

How Aurangzib began war with the Rathors, 205—Thirty years of war in Marwar, 207—Shujaet Khan's government of Marwar, 1687-1707—The struggle during 1681-1686, 210—Durgadas again in Marwar, 1687-1696, 211—The restoration of Aurangzib's grand-daughter by Durgadas, 1696, 214—Surrender of Akbar's son and submission of Durgadas, 1698, 216—Second revolt of Ajit and Durgadas.
History of Aurangzib

1701, 218—Renewal of struggle and final success of the Rathors.

59. Disorders in Northern India 224—23?

60. The English Traders in India 238—273

61. Some Provinces During Aurangzib's Reign 274—334

Bengal: Its natural wealth and recuperative power, 274—Mughal conquest and its benefit to Bengal, 275—Mughal peace prevails in Bengal throughout the 17th century, 276—Miserable condition of Bengal at Aurangzib's accession, 277—Shaista Khan's achievements as governor of Bengal, 280—Ibrahim Khan's supine rule, 284—Rebellion of Shova Singh and Rahim Khan, 285—Rahim Khan's war with the Contents

Mughal Govt., 286—Bengal under Murshid Quli Khan, 289—Murshid Quli’s revenue system, 291.
Malwa: Races forming its population; its importance in Mughal times, 292—First Maratha incursion into Malwa, 1689—Nimaji Sindhi’s raid into Malwa, 1703, 295—Prince Bidar Bakht as governor of Malwa, 1704-1706—Effect of disturbances on the condition of the country, 300.
Bundelkhand: Chhatrasal Bundela’s early life: as a Mughal Captain, 301—Chhatrasal aims at independence, 303—Chhatrasal’s early war with Mughal Government, 304—Chhatrasal’s later career and success, 306.

62. The Condition of the People 335—361

The rapid decline of the Mughal Empire, 335—Internal peace the root cause of India’s prosperity, 335—Economic drain of Aurangzib’s ceaseless warfare, 337—Pestilence and natural calamities, 339—Injury to trade and industry by war, disorder, and official’ exactions, 340—Other oppressors of the cultivators, 341—Bankruptcy of the Mughal Govt., 343—Administrative decline and public disturbances in N. India, 346—Poverty and powerlessness of governors, 347—Decay of Indian civilisation under Aurangzib, its causes and signs, 349—Moral degeneration of the Mughal aristocracy, 350—Evil education of the children of nobles, 351—Vices of Society, 353—Popular superstitions, 353—Official bribery, its forms and causes, 356—Lower official world, its life and character, 358—The purity and delights of the life of the masses, 359.
History of Aurangzib

63. Aurangzib and Indian Nationality 362—378

Character of Aurangzib: courage and coolness, 362—Aurangzib's learning and self-preparation, 363—Aurangzib's industry, moral purity, and simplicity of life, 364—His besetting sin of over-centralisation: its disastrous effects on the administration, 365—True character and aim of the Mughal Government, 366—Difference in life and ideal makes fusion of Hindus and Muhammadans impossible, 368—Hindus politically depressed and degraded under Aurangzib, 370—Decline of the Muslims in India; its causes, 371—Deterioration and inherent weakness of Hindu Society, 374—How Hindus and Muslims lived together in India; occasional union, latent danger of fight, 375—Indian peoples lack the spirit of progress; hence their decline, 376—The significance of Aurangzib's reign: how an Indian nationality can be formed, 377.

64. The Empire of Aurangzib: Its Resources, Trade and Administrative System 379—390

The Empire: its extent and revenue, 379—The Official Peerage, 381—Manufactures and trade, 383—The administrative system, 387.