LIST OF BOOKS

BLACKIE—Four Phases of Morals:

BLACKIE—Songs of Religion and Life.
Fc2ap. 8vo, 6s.
"The poems in this volume may be regarded as a Second Edition of the second part of my 'Lays and Legends of Ancient Greece,' which has long been out of print, along with other Poems not hitherto published, and a few from a volume of 'Lyrical Poems' previously published, all having one common object, viz. 'the cultivation of religious reverence without sectarian dogmatism, and of poetical sentiment tending not so much to arouse the imagination or to take the fancy, as to purify the passions and to regulate the conduct of life.'"—Preface.

BLACKIE—On Self-Culture:
"Every parent should put it into the hands of his son."—Spectator.
"Students in all countries would do well to take as their vade-mecum a little book on self-culture by the eminent Professor of Greek in the University of Edinburgh."—Gentleman's Magazine.
"An invaluable manual to be put into the hands of students and young men."—Edin.
"Written in that lucid and nervous prose of which he is a master."—Spectator.
"An adequate guide to a generous, eager, and sensible life."—Academy.
"The volume is a little thing, but it is a multum in parvo . . . a little locket girded within and without with real stones litly set."—Conway.

ERSKINE—Letters of Thomas Erskine of Linlathen.
"Here is one who speaks out of the fulness of a large living human heart; whose words will awaken an echo in the hearts of many burdened with the cares of time, perplexed with the movements of the spirit of our time, who will speak to their deepest needs, and lead them to a haven of rest."—Daily Review.
"It does one good to come in contact with so saintly a man, and Dr. Hanna has certainly conferred a benefit on the Church at large by editing this volume."—Edinburgh Courant.
"How high must that peak have been which sought the light so early," were the words with which a writer in the Contemporary Review, in sketching the life of Thomas Erskine, shortly after his death, characterised his position, his spirit, and his influence."—Nonconformist.
"They exhibit much felicitous power of expression, as well as depth and seriousness of thought."—Guardian.
"We have a delightful picture of a circle of friends, belonging chiefly to the untitled aristocracy of Scotland, bound together by ties of kindred and friendship, as well as by those of strong religious sympathy. In the midst of them stands Erskine, like Agamemnon, taller by the head than any of his comrades, and to all, guide, teacher, and friend. . . . The real charm of the book lies in its exhibition of a Christian character."—Theological Review.
"The influence of his (Erskine's) thoughts has been far reaching and profound."—Argus.
ERSKINE—The Unconditional Freeness of the Gospel.
New Edition, revised. Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.

ERSKINE—The Spiritual Order,
And other Papers selected from the MSS. of the late Thomas Erskine of Linlathen.

[In the Press.

Do., Fourth Edition, ex. fcap. 8vo, 2s.

“It is a grand addition to our pure Scottish dialect; . . . it is not merely a capital specimen of genuine Scottish northern dialect: but it is a capital specimen of pawkie characteristic Scottish humour. It is full of good hard Scottish dry fun.” —Dean Ramsay.

KENNEDY—Pilate’s Question, “Whence art Thou?”

“Another able and reasonable little volume. . . . We earnestly commend this work as one of no ordinary power, and no ordinary usefulness at the present time.” —Daily Review.

“This treatise, written on a skilfully arranged plan, is unquestionably a powerful and eloquent vindication of the orthodox and catholic belief in opposition to rationalistic theories.” —Scottish Guardian.

“Dr. Kennedy is calm and measured, and singularly fair in his statements. . . . We would earnestly urge young people especially that they master the contents of this able and timely little volume.” —Contemporary.

“A very remarkable volume of sermons.” —Contemporary Review.

“The sermons before us are of no common order; among a host of competitors they occupy a high class—we were about to say the highest class—whether viewed in point of composition, or thought, or treatment.—B. and F. Evangelical Review.

Their History and Antiquities. By Alexander Laing, LL.D., F.S.A. Scot. 1 vol.
small 4to. With Index, and thirteen Full-page and ten Woodcut Illustrations 21s.

"This is a charming volume in every respect."—Notes and Queries.
"The prominent characteristics of the work are its exhaustiveness, and the thoroughly philosophic spirit in which it is written."—Spectator.

LANCASTER—Essays and Reviews.
By the late Henry H. Lancaster, Advocate; with a Prefatory Notice by the Rev.
B. Jowett, Master of Balliol College, Oxford. Demy 8vo, with Portrait, 14s.

LAURIE—On the Philosophy of Ethics. An Analytical Essay. By S. S. Laurie, A.M., F.R.S.E., Professor of the Theory, History, and Practice of Education in the University of Edinburgh. Demy 8vo, 6s.

"Mr. Laurie's volume now before us is in substance, though not in form, a reply to Mr. Mill's Utilitarianism. Mr. Laurie has the metaphysical head and the metaphysical training of his countrymen, and has brought both to bear with great force on the problem proposed."—Saturday Review.

LAURIE—Notes on British Theories of Morals.
Demy 8vo, 6s.

"His criticisms are candid and highly instructive, e.g. those of the views of Bentham, Mill, and Bain. He manifests great aptitude in detecting radical defects, in exposing logical inconsistencies, and in detecting the legitimate tendencies of philosophical systems."—British Quarterly

Life among my Ain Folk.
By the Author of "Johnny Gihb of Gushetneuk." 12mo, cloth, 2s. 6d.

LINDSAY—A Gold Standard without a Gold Coinage in England and India a step towards an International Monetary System. By A. M.
Lindsay. Demy 8vo, 1s.

A Lost Battle.

"This in every way remarkable novel."—Morning Post
"We are all the more ready to do justice to the excellence of the author's drawing of characters."— Athenæum.
"The story is altogether a most enjoyable one."—Spectator.
"The characters throughout, even down to the least important one, are well drawn."— Pall Mall Gazette.
"It possesses almost every requisite of a good novel."—Vanity Fair.
"Very few of our best veteran writers of fiction have given to the world a prettier story, or one told in a purer style and with a healthier moral."—Standard.
"The book is pleasantly free from affectation: the working out of the plot . . .
is, on the whole, managed with much cleverness, and most of the characters are natural and consistent."—Saturday Review.
"It combines literary grace and constructive fancy with purity of tone, and even an elevated moral."—Standard.
"A story which is pure and lofty from beginning to end, and has not a dull page in it."—Spectator.
"We may fairly rank it among the most promising works of fiction which have been given to the public within recent years." — Literary World.

"The secret of its fascination, so far as it can be explained, perhaps lies in the combination of perfect ease and naturalness with perfect refinement, not only of tone, but of thought and sentiment, and with that pure and true feeling for beauty in character and situation, which shows that the author has the soul of the artist." — Contemporary Review.

"The characters are carefully conceived and consistently developed, without the least strain and always in keeping. While the story never flags, it is exceedingly good and well worth reading, having the rare merit of improving up to the end." — Hibernia Courier.

"Many a happy phrase, and even far-reaching expression, convinces us that we are in the hands not only of a shrewd and genial observer, but of a thoughtful writer." — Daily Review.

"The women in it are real women, and the types selected are all interesting... She has breathed into them a genuine life, and given them deep social interest." — Garnett.

MAIR—Records of the Parish of Ellon.

By THOMAS MAIR. In 1 vol. demy 8vo, 7s. 6d.

MAXWELL—Antwerp Delivered in MDLXXVII.

"A splendid folio in richly ornamented binding, protected by an almost equally ornamental slip-cover... Remarkable illustrations of the manner in which the artists of the time pursued their labours in a country ravaged by war, and in cities ever menaced by siege and sack." — Scotsman.

MICHIE—History of Loch Kinnord.

By the REV. J. G. MICHIE. Demy 8vo, 2s. 6d.

"It is throughout a piece of genuine, honest, literary workmanship, dealing thoroughly with its subject on the basis of careful study and personal inquiry and labour." — Aberdeen Free Press.

MILN—Researches and Excavations at Carnac (Morbihan), The Boscano, and Mont St. Michel.

By JAMES MILN. In 1 vol., royal 8vo, with Maps, Plans, and numerous Illustrations in Wood Engraving and Chromolithography. 42s.

"Mr. Miln has made some interesting discoveries, and his record of them is simply and modestly written. He seems to have spared no pains either in making his excavations, or in writing and illustrating an account of them... Mr. Miln has thus an opportunity worthy of an ambitious archaeologist, and he has succeeded in using it well." — Saturday Review.

"This elegant volume, one of those which are the luxury of art, is the work of an enthusiastic and well-informed antiquary." — British Quarterly.

MOREHEAD—Memorials of the Life and Writings of the REV. ROBERT MOREHEAD, D.D., formerly Rector of Elsington, Yorkshire, and previously Dean of Edinburgh. Edited by his Son, CHARLES MOREHEAD, M.D. Crown 8vo, 7s. 6d.

MACLAGAN—The Hill Forts, Stone Circles, and other Structural Remains of Ancient Scotland. By C. MacLagan, Lady Associate of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland. With Plans and Illustrations. 1 vol. fol., 31s. 6d.

"We need not enlarge on the few inconsequential speculations which rigid archaeologists may find in the present volume. We desire rather to commend it to their careful study, fully assured that not only they, but also the general reader, will be edified by its perusal."—Scottman.

M'LAREN—The Light of the World.

By David M'Lauren, Minister of Humie. Crown 8vo, extra, 6s.

"We are conscious of having but very inadequately represented this valuable book, and can only hope that what we have said may lead all who have the opportunity to study it for themselves."—Literary World.

"In this modest and unpretending volume we have collected together some of the wisest and best essays upon Christ, His mission and His character, His sayings and His doings, that we have met for a long time."

"It is difficult to exaggerate the wise common sense which breathes in every page of the writer's work."—Comment.

"This is a welcome volume."—Dundee Advertiser.

"The work is pervaded by a healthy moral tone, and characterised throughout by breadth and liberality of sentiment."—Scottman.

"... The fine spirit of the volume. ... It is excellent for thought, and for knowledge also."—Nonconformist.

M itchell—Our Scotch Banks:

MOLBECH—Ambrosius:

A play, translated from the Danish of Christian K. F. Molbech by Alice Berry. Extra fcap. 8vo, 5s.

NAPIER—"The Lanox of Auld:"

[Nearly ready.

Notes and Sketches Illustrative of Northern Rural Life in the Eighteenth Century, by the Author of "Johnny Gibb of Gumtneuk." In 1 vol. fcap. 8vo, 2s.

"This delightful little volume. It is a treasure. ... We admire the telling simplicity of the style, the sly, pawky, Aberdonian humour, the wide acquaintance with the social and other conditions of the northern rural counties of last century, and the fund of illustrative anecdotes which enrich the volume. The author has done great service to the cause of history and of progress. It is worth a great many folios of the old dry-as-dust type."—Daily Review.

"The future Historians of Scotland will be very fortunate if many parts of their materials are so carefully worked up for them and set before them in so complete and taking a form."—Athenæum.

"When we say that these two volumes contain more than 770 records, of which more than 550 have never been printed before, and that they are illustrated by a series of Plates, by the autotype process, of the coins themselves, the reader may judge for himself of the learning, as well as the pains, bestowed on them both by the Author and the Publisher."—Times.

"The most handsome and complete Work of the kind which has ever been published in this country."—Numismatic Chronicle, P. IV., 1876.

"We have in these Records of the Coinage of Scotland, not the production of a dilettante, but of a real student, who, with rare pains and the most scholarly diligence, has set to work and collected into two massive volumes a complete history of the coinage of Scotland, so far as it can be gathered from the ancient records."—Academy.

PATRICK—Early Records relating to Mining in Scotland:

Collected by R. W. Cochran-Patrick. Demy 4to, 31s. 6d.

"The documents contained in the body of the work are given without alteration or abridgment, and the introduction is written with ability and judgment, presenting a clear and concise outline of the earlier history of the Mining Industries of Scotland."—Scottish.

"The documents . . . comprise a great deal that is very curious, and no less that will be important to the historian in treating of the origin of one of the most important branches of the natural industry."—Daily News.

"Such a book . . . revealing as it does the first developments of an industry which has become the mainspring of the national prosperity, ought to be specially interesting to all patriotic Scotsmen."—Saturday Review.

Popular Genealogists;

Or, the Art of Pedigree-making. Crown 8vo, 4s.

"We have here an agreeable little treatise of a hundred pages, from an anonymous but evidently competent hand, on the ludicrous and fraudulent sides of genealogy. The subject has a serious and important historical character, when regarded from the point of view of the authors of The Governing Families of England. But it is rich in the materials of comedy also.

"The first case selected by the writer before us is one which has often excited our mirth by the very completeness of its unrivalled absurdity. Nobody can turn over the popular genealogical books of our day without dropping on a family called Coultart of Coultart, Collyn, and Ashton-under-Lyne. The pedigree given makes the house beyond all question the oldest in Europe. Neither the Bishops nor Her Majesty's family can be satisfactorily carried beyond the ninth century, whereas the Coultarts were by that time an old and distinguished house."

"We are glad to see such a step taken in the good work as the publication of the essay which has suggested this article, and which we commend to those who want a lot of instructive and amusing reading."—Pall Mall Gazette.

RENTON, W.—Oils and Water Colours.

By William Renton. 1 vol. 12mo, 6s.

"The book is obviously for the Artist and the Poet, and for every one who shares with them a true love and zeal for nature's beauties."—Scottish.

"To have observed such a delicate bit of colouring as this, and to have written so good a sonnet in the 'strict style,' as that we have quoted, shows that our author has no common powers either as an observer or a writer."—Liverpool Albion.

"To those minds that really hold this joy in beauty, Mr. Renton's book will undoubtedly give delight."—Northern Ensign.

ROBERTSON—Historical Essays,

In connection with the Land and the Church, etc. By E. WILLIAM ROBERTSON, Author of "Scotland under her Early Kings." In 1 vol. 8vo, 10s. 6d.

ROBERTSON—Scotland under her Early Kings.

A History of the Kingdom to the close of the 13th century. By E. WILLIAM ROBERTSON. In 2 vols. 8vo, cloth, 36s.

"Mr. Robertson's labours are of that valuable kind where an intelligent and through sifted original authorities is brought to bear upon a portion of history handled over hitherto, in a pre-eminent degree, to a specially mendacious set of Medieval chroniclers, and (not so long ago) to a specially polemical and uncritical class of modern historians. He belongs to the school of Innes and Skene and Joseph Robertson, and has established a fair right to be classed with the Reeves and Todd of Irish historical antiquarianism, and the Sharpes, and Kemble, and Haydys in England."—Guardian

"Mr. Robertson, in the appendix to his 'Scotland under her Early Kings, on the English claims, appears to the editor to have completely disposed of the claims found on the passages in the Munkish Historians prior to the Norman Conquest.
This paper is one of the acutest and most satisfactory of these very able essays."—
W. F. Skene in Preface to Chronicles of Poets and Scots.

SHAIRP—Studies in Poetry and Philosophy.

By J. C. SHAIRP, LL.D., Principal of the United College of St. Salvator and St.

SHAIRP—Culture and Religion.

By PRINCIPAL SHAIRP, LL.D. Fifth Edition. Fcap. 8vo, 8s. 6d.

"A wise book, and unlike a great many other wise books, is that carefully shaded thought and expression which bids Professor Sharp to speak for Culture no less than for Religion."—Spectator.

SHAIRP—On Poetic Interpretation of Nature.

By J. C. SHAIRP, LL.D., Principal of the United College of St. Salvator and St.

1 There is a real sense of relief and refreshment on turning from the news of the day to the unspeakable repose of nature, and in the sense of coolness, and stillness, and greenness, of which we become conscious as we follow Professor Sharp through these interesting and suggestive pages."—Times.
"The substance of Mr. Shairp's book was not originally delivered to a learned audience; but he is so essentially thoughtful and meditative, so rich in the facts and fruits of culture, so able and suggestively critical, that Oxford has good reasons for expecting results of permanent value from her Professor of poetry."—Guardian.
"We have followed Mr. Shairp with much interest through his little volume, and heartily commend it to our readers. . . . We can promise a fresh pleasure in almost every page."—Spectator.
"Altogether, the book is one full of interest and instruction of a thoroughly elevating character."—Aberdeen Free Press.
"We can recommend no better, fresher, more helpful, more exhilarating exercise for the young lover of poetry, who has a real desire to know whereof he affirms—or ought to affirm—delight, when he reads a good poetical description, than to study these pages with attention, and to confirm or correct their criticisms by carefully examining the poets referred to for himself. He will learn to read them with new eyes, and will experience the same delight which he felt on turning to Tennyson after reading Brinley's essay."—Courant.

SHAIRP—Wordsworth's Tour in Scotland in 1803, in Company with his Sister and S. T. Coleridge; being the Journal of Miss Wordsworth, now for the first time made public. Edited by Principal Shairp, LL.D. Second Edition. 1 vol., crown 8vo, 6s.

"If there were no other record of her than those brief extracts from Her Journal during the Highland Tour, which stand at the head of several of her brother's poems, those alone would prove her possession of a large portion of his genius."—North British Review.

SHAIRP—Kilmahoë, a Highland Pastoral,
And other Poems. Fcap. 8vo, 6s.

SIMPSON—The Near and the Far View,

"Very fresh and thoughtful are these sermons."—Literary World.

"Dr. Simpson's sermons may fairly claim distinctive power. He looks at things with his own eye, and often shows us what with ordinary vision we had failed to perceive. The sermons are distinctively good."—British Quarterly Review.

SKENE—The Four Ancient Books of Wales,
Containing the Cymric Poems attributed to the Bards of the sixth century. By William F. Skene. With Maps and Facsimiles. 2 vols. 8vo, 36s.

"Mr. Skene's book will, as a matter of course and necessity, find its place on the tables of all Celtic antiquaries and scholars."—Archaeologia Cambrensis.

SKENE—The Coronation Stone.
By William F. Skene. Small 4to. With Illustrations in Photography and Zinography. 6s.

SKENE—Celtic Scotland.

"It is a book of solid and good work, and which ought to be thankfully welcomed by all who are engaged in any minute study of the early history of Britain."—Full Magazine.

"This volume is the first instalment of a work which will bring the early history of Scotland out of the clouds and mists of artificially constructed systems of history, exaggerated tradition, and legendary fiction, and into a real, if still somewhat dim, historic light."—Edinburgh Courier.

"Das ist es denn in der That ein Fortschritt, wenn ein Gelehrter, der sich die schwierigen, aber unerlässlichen Sprachkenntnisse erworben und seit Jahren mit Sichtung der vertrauenswürdigen Ueberlieferung von den Trojenern, welche alles Keltische so leicht bedecken, befaßt hat, die bedeutende Aufgabe in die Hand nimmt nach strenger Methode die wirklich Thatsachen jener Anfangszeit hunderte hinzustellen. Er hat sich gründlich mit der einheimischen Literatur von Wales und Irland bekannt gemacht und steht durch Kenntniss des Deutschen in verbindung mit den Fortschritten der sprachvergleichenden Wissenschaft überhaupt... Ungemein liehrreich mit Hilfe einiger Kärächen, deren wissenschaftliche Begründung wohl verdient von der neuen Ausgabe des Historischen Atlas...
LIST OF BOOKS

von Spruner-Menke für die brittische Abteilung ernstlich in Betracht gezogen zu werden, ist Alles, was ein so genauer Kenner seiner Heimath, wie Skene es ist, hinsichtlich der physikalischen und ganz besonders der geschichtlichen, Geographie derselben beibringt. . . . Linguistik, Ethnographie, Topographie und Kritik der historischen Quellen greifen für diese wichtige Epoche des Ueberlängs wirkungsvoll in einander, wie es meines Wissens bisher in keinem anderen Werke geschah ist."—Göttingische gelehrte Anzeigen,—Dr. R. Pauli.

SKENE—Celtic Scotland.

A History of Ancient Alban. Vol. II. Book II. Church and Culture. In 8vo, with Maps, 15s.

"He brings to the consideration of his subject a thoroughly unprejudiced mind. . . . He has waited till every source of information seems to have been exhausted, and then he gives us the result of his investigations in a calm and carefully weighed narrative. . . . To thank Mr. Skene for a work like this might almost savour of impertinence. It stands alone in a field of labour in which others have not been idle."—Academy.

"We are glad now to welcome the second volume of the work, an instalment which will be found equally valuable with the first. . . . It is a work of the highest value, and our opinion of it is by no means to be measured by the brief mention to which we are limited here."—Westminster Review.

"The second volume of Mr. Skene's learned and valuable work on Celtic Scotland. . . . Mr. Skene is unimpeachably impartial."—Saturday Review.

"Mr. Skene bears himself . . . with a serene impartiality. . . . He is no mere polemic, using history as a weapon for controversial purposes. . . . Instead of building with materials derived from cloutland he proceeds according to the best methods of historic criticism . . . Such are his fairness no less than his facility of suggestion, his painstaking enthusiasm no less than the minute fidelity of his erudition, his reverent spirit no less than his ingenuity and power of synthesis, that his views may be trusted assuredly to prevail. Most readers will instinctively detect in him qualities that suffice to protect novelty from the accusation of paradox."—Spectator.

SKENE—Celtic Scotland.

"Guided by competent knowledge, the compiler of this work would appear to have had ample access to desirable examples, and has thus been enabled to make a selection well fitted at once to gratify the connoisseur and to afford valuable suggestions to the designer or the craftsman. . . . The lithograph plates are beautifully executed, and the volume altogether brought out in capital style."—Scotland.

"Mr. J. W. SMALL's very admirable volume, illustrative of ancient Scottish work. . . . It is impossible to over-estimate the value of the minute details that abound in Mr. SMALL'S admirable work. Very opportunely has Mr. SMALL come to the rescue of art furniture with his admirable work, of which it is impossible to speak in unduly eulogistic terms."—Furniture Gazette.

SMITH—Shelley: a Critical Biography.

By George Barnett Smith. Ex. Icsp. 8vo, 6s.

"One of the keenest, if not exactly one of the acutest estimates that has ever been written of a poet about whose life, genius, and works, many writers have greatly differed, and about whom future writers will continue to differ."—Scotland.

"Mr. Barnett Smith may be congratulated upon having undertaken a noble and manly task, and having done it well. . . . The monograph, taken as a whole, is scarcely susceptible of improvement."—Morning Post.

"Mr. Smith's Critical Biography strikes us as being singularly fresh-hearted in feeling, verified by a noble and unaffected sympathy with all that is spiritually beautiful in nature and man."—Telegraph.

"Mr. Smith's Biography is eminently suggestive, and while worthy of his acknowledged critical taste, it is rendered deeply interesting by the psychological questions it broaches."—Courant.

"We are grateful to him for enabling us to think more kindly of the author of two such magnificent poems as 'The Cenci,' and 'Prometheus Unbound.'"—Guardian.

"Mr. Barnett Smith has done good service to the memory of Shelley."—Contemporary Review.

"The criticism of the poems is thoughtful, keen-sighted, and in every way valuable, displaying an accurate knowledge of Shelley, and of his place in English literature. Mr. Smith's own style is fluent, pithy, and frequently brilliant. . . . The essay, as a whole, is powerfully written, and . . . will prove a welcome contribution to the study of this great poet."—Freeman.

SMITH—The Sermon on the Mount.

By the Rev. Walter C. Smith, D.D. Crown 8vo, 6s.

SMITH—Answer to the Form of Libel before the Free

Presbytery of Aberdeen. By W. Robertson Smith, Professor of Oriental Languages and Exegesis of the Old Testament in the Free Church College, Aberdeen. 8vo, is.

"He has shown it to be possible to maintain devoutness of spirit, and a hearty acceptance of the dogmatic forms of belief, with a thorough application to the Scriptures and the ordinary methods of philological criticism."—Rev. T. A. Cheyne in Academy.

SMITH—Additional Answer to the Libel.

With some Account of the Evidence that parts of the Pentateuchal Law are later than the Time of Moses. By W. Robertson Smith, Professor of Oriental Languages and Exegesis of the Old Testament in the Free Church College, Aberdeen. 8vo, 1s.

"The freshness and intimate acquaintance with the position of criticism which these eighty-eight pages display, justify us in commending this pamphlet to the attention of all Biblical students. There is nothing startling in it except indeed its moderation."—Academy.

SMITH—Answer to the Amended Libel, with Appendix containing Plea in Law. By W. Robertson Smith. 8vo, 6d.

SMYTH—Life and Work at the Great Pyramid.

SOUTHESK—Saskatchewan and the Rocky Mountains.

Diary and Narrative of Travel, Sport, and Adventure, during a Journey through part of the Hudson's Bay Company's Territories in 1859 and 1860. By the Earl of Southe, K., F.R.G.S. 1 vol., demy 8vo, with Illustrations on Wood by Whymper, 18s.

SOUTHESK—Herminius.

A Romance. By I. E. S. Fcap. 8vo, 6s.

STEVENSON—Christianity Confirmed by Jewish and Heathen Testimony, and the Deductions from Physical Science, etc. By Thomas Stevenson, F.R.S.E., F.G.S., Member of the Institution of Civil Engineers.

STRACHAN—What is Play?
A Physiological Inquiry. Its bearing upon Education and Training. By John Strachan, M.D., Jun. In 1 vol. fcap., 1s.
"We have great pleasure in directing the attention of our readers to this little work... bearing as it does on one of the most important aspects of physiological medicine, as well as on education in the highest sense of the word."—Lancet.
"A very interesting, and, in the main, a wise little book."—Mind.
"It is so seldom that so much sound sense, clear reasoning, and able development of ideas, which will probably be new to the majority of readers, are compressed into a hundred duodecimo pages, as Dr. Strachan has contrived to put into his little treatise on Play."—Scotsman.

TAIT—Sketch of Thermodynamics.
By O. G. Tait, Professor of Natural Philosophy in the University of Edinburgh.

TEIGNMOUTH—Reminiscences of Many Years.
By Lord Teignmouth. 2 vols., de luxe, 8vo, 28s.

WILSON—The Botany of Three Historical Records:
Crown 8vo, with 5 plates, 3s. 6d.
"The book is useful as affording illustrations of Scripture incident and teaching,"—Inverness Courier.
"The writer deserves credit for the pains he has taken in making his researches, and by means of well-designed woodcuts he has so illustrated the work as to make his arguments as clear as is possible."—Courant.

WILSON—Reminiscences of Old Edinburgh.
By Daniel Wilson, LL.D., F.R.S.E., Professor of History and English Literature in University College, Toronto, Author of "Prehistoric Annals of Scotland," etc.
etc. 2 vols. post 8vo, 15s.
"We have only been able to single out some specimens at random from a book that is essentially discursive; but we have found the whole very enjoyable reading, and there is no lack of variety of incidents. The illustrations, which are after penand-ink sketches by the author where he is not indebted for them to the irreprovable Mr. Sharpe, are equally clever and characteristic."—Mail Mail Gazette.
"Professor Wilson has given us a book for which we may be thankful, especially in these days of slipshod learning and superficial display. He knows his subject thoroughly, and writes about it with the ease of a master. We must not omit to notice the exceedingly graceful and accurate pen-and-ink sketches by the author himself, reproduced with rare fidelity by photogravography, and the two laughable caricature vignettes by C. K. Sharpe, which are exceedingly characteristic."— Edinburgh Courant.
