Life and Liberty in America. By Dr. C. MacKay. Two Volumes, Post 8vo, with Ten Tinted Illustrations.

The book is most interesting to be handled in a masterly manner, and in that peculiar and lucid style which has obtained for Miss Martinet's writings much popularity in the daily press. The purpose with which Miss Martinet has written about England and her soldiers is purely practical, and equally so is the manner in which she has treated the subject. There is not in her whole volume one line of invective against individuals or classes. No candid reader can deny that this effort has been made opportunely, ably, and discreetly. — 'Shipping and Mercantile Gazette.'

Life in Tuscany. By Mabel Sharman Crawford. With Two Views, Post 8vo, price 10s. 6d. cloth.

"Miss Crawford's book is sure to attract attention. It is full of thought and good feeling, with an artist's love for nature, and a poet's lofty ideal of human life."—Literary Gazette.

There are many traces of quiet, genuine humour, brilliant and harmless as summer lightings, which agreeably relieve the more serious portions of the work. Miss Crawford's reflections are as sound and practical as her perceptions are lively and acute, and she has succeeded in contributing a really valuable addition to that otherwise redundant department of literature."—Press.

The pleasant life in Tuscany has, perhaps, not been so well photographed before."—Athenaeum.

Hong Kong to Manilla. By Henry T. Ellis, R.N. Post 8vo, with Fourteen Illustrations, price 12s. cloth.

"A book of travels, happily, in this case, pleasant and more than readable, from the lively reading style, the entertaining and good humour, the healthy, hearty tone and genially feeling of its writer."—Bee comit.

"The narrative fulfils the object of the author, which is to present a lively account of what he saw, heard, and did during a holiday run to a rarely visited place."—Spectator.

"Mr. Ellis has given to the public a most valuable and interesting work upon a race and country little known to English readers."—Illustrated News of the World.

The Oxford Museum. By Henry W. Acland, M.D., and John Ruskin, A.M. Post 8vo, with Three Illustrations, price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"Everyone who cares for the advance of true learning, and desires to note an onward step, should buy and read this little volume."—Morning Herald.

"There is as much significance in the occasion of this little volume as interest in the book itself."—Spectator.

"A valuable work, in which Dr. Ewart, with equal ability and skill, has compressed the essence and import of an immense mass of details."—Spectator.

"One main object of this most valuable volume is to point out the causes which render the Indian climate so fatal to European troops."—Critic.

Post 8vo, price 10s 6d. cloth.

"Mr. Sargent has written a very useful sketch, His book is very well written, and excellently arranged."—Saturday Review.

"Mr. Sargent has done good service in putting upon record some of the vagaries of the pseudo-economists of the last twenty years. His views are more sound and moderate on this important question."—Guardian.

"A work which will be read with considerable interest."—Morning Chronicle.
SMITH, ELDER AND CO.

8vo, price 16s., cloth.

"Mr. Kaye has written a history of the development of Christianity in India by all its agencies and all its manifestations... His whole narrative is eloquent and informing, and he has again made a valuable and great opportunity; and indestructible talents, so that his book will probably become a standard authority."—Times.

"The author traces the history of Christian Missions in India from their earliest commencement down to the present time, with a light and graceful pen, and is not wearisome minute, but judiciously discriminative."—Athenæum.

"Mr. Kaye's is, in many respects an able book, and it is likely to prove a very useful one. Mr. Kaye is not only most instructive from his familiarity with all points of detail, but he sees and judges everything as it was seen and judged by the great statesmen whose wisdom has made British government possible in India."—Saturday Review.

"Seldom have we had the good fortune to read so simple, thorough, and excellent a history: it will remain a standard book."—Morning Chronicle.

"Mr. Kaye has done good service to the causes of Christian missions by the publication of his volume."—Illustrated News of the World.

"A clear and careful retrospect of the rise and progress of Christianity in the East,"—Blackwood's Magazine.

A Lady's Escape from Gwalior, during the Mutinies of 1857. By MRS. COOPLAND.

The Life of J. Deacon Hume, Esq., late Secretary to the Board of Trade. By the REV. CHARLES BADHAM.
Post 8vo, price 9s., cloth.

"A masterly piece of biographical narrative; to minute and conscientious industry in searching out facts, Mr. Badham confers a taste for a graceful style and a sincere liking for the task he has in hand. He has produced one of the most useful and judicious biographies extant in our literature, peculiarly full of beauties, and peculiarly free from faults."—Atlan.

"It is well that the world's attention should be called to such a man, and that the particulars of his character and career should be preserved in a biography."—Spectator.

The Life of Charlotte Brontë. (Currer Bell.)
Author of "Jane Eyre," "Shirley," "Villette" &c.
By MRS. GASKELL, Author of "North and South," &c.
Fourth Edition, Revised, One Volume, with a Portrait of Miss Brontë and a View of Haworth Parsonage. Price 7s. 6d.; morocco elegant, 14s.

"All the secrets of the literary workmanship of the authors of "Jane Eyre" are unfolded in the course of this extraordinary narrative."—Times.

"Its moral is, the unapproachable strength of genius and goodness, Mrs. Gaskell's account of Charlotte Brontë and her family is one of the profoundest tragedies of modern life."—Spectator.

"Let those who would know all that can be told, and ought to be told, hasten to read this history, which man of kindred genius has fearlessly and truthfully written of Charlotte Brontë."—Daily News.

"In all this book will be read with interest. As a work of art, we do not recollect a life of a woman by a woman so well executed... We have been led by the author to a large by the love; and, we repeat, she has produced one of the best biographies of a woman by a woman which we can recall to mind."—Athenæum.

"If any one wishes to see how a woman possessed of the highest intellectual power can disregard every temptation which intellect throws in the way of women—how generously and nobly a human being can live under the pressure of accumulated misfortune—the record is at hand in 'The Life of Charlotte Brontë.'"—Saturday Review.

"Mrs. Gaskell has done her work well. Her narrative is simple, direct, intelligible, unaffected. No one else could have paid so tender and discerning a tribute to the memory of Charlotte Brontë."—Crurer's Magazine.

"We can be sure in our praise of this book, and must not part from it without saying how often we have been led by the love of the author to a large by the love; and, we repeat, she has produced one of the best biographies of a woman by a woman which we can recall to mind."—Examiner.
WORKS PUBLISHED BY

Sermons. By the late REV. FRED. W. ROBERTSON, A.M.,
Incumbent of Trinity Chapel, Brighton.
FIRST SERIES—Sixth Edition, Post 8vo, price 9s. cloth.
SECOND SERIES—Fifth Edition, price 9s. cloth.

"There are many persons, and their number increases every year, to whom Robertson's writings are the most stable, exhaustless, and satisfactory form of religious teaching which the nineteenth century has given—the most wise, suggestive, and practical."—Saturday Review.

"There must be a great and true heart, where there is a great and true preacher. And in that, beyond everything else, lay the secret of Mr. Robertson's influence. His sermons show evidence enough of acute logical power. His analysis is exquisite in its sublimity and delicacy. He has a clear, penetrative intellect, which carries light with it into the thickest darkness. But what we feel most in him is not this. It is that a brother man is speaking to us as brother men; that we are listening, not to the measured words of a calm, cool thinker, but to the passionate deep-toned voice of an earnest human soul."—Edinburgh Christian Magazine.

"These sermons are full of thought and beauty. There is not a sermon in the series that does not furnish evidence of originality without extravagance, of discrimination without tellowness, and of piety without cant or conventionalism."—British Quarterly.

"We recommend the whole of the volumes to the perusal of our readers. They will find in them thought of a rare and beautiful description, an earnestness of mind steadfast in the search of truth, and a charity pure and all-embracing."—Economist.

"We should be glad if all preachers more united with ourselves, preached such sermons as these."—Christian Remembrancer.

"The Sermons are altogether out of the common style. They are strong, free, and sense-satisfying: appearances of a refined and cultivated mind."—Eclectic Review.

"The Sermons are rich in evidence of his pious, manly, and searching faith; and of his power not only to point to heaven, but to lead the way."—Globe.

"They are very remarkable compositions. The thoughts are often very striking, and entirely out of the track of ordinary sermonsing."—Guardian.

Lectures and Addresses on Literary and Social Topics. By the late REV. FRED. W. ROBERTSON, of Brighton.

Post 8vo, price 7s. 6d. cloth.

"These lectures and addresses are marked by the same qualities that made the author's sermons so justly and so widely popular. They manifest the same earnest, liberal spirit, the ardent love of truth, the lucid eloquence, the wide sympathy, and singleness of purpose."—Literary Gazette.

"We value this volume for its frankness and earnestness."—Critic.

"They throw some new light on the constitution of Robertson's mind, and on the direction in which it was unfolding itself."—Saturday Review.

"It is in papers such as these that Frederick Robertson makes the world his debtor."—Constitutional Press.

"In those addresses we are gladdened by rare liberality of view and range of sympathy boldly expressed."—Daily Telegraph.

Demy 8vo, with Illustrations, price 14s., cloth.

"A very comprehensive work. Those who pursue it will know almost all, if not all, that books can teach them of guns and gunnery."—Naval and Military Gazette.

"A most valuable work at this particular moment."—Observer.

"We can confidently recommend this book of Gunnery, not only to the professional student, but also to the sportsman."—Naval and Military Herald.

"Mr. Greener's treatise is suggestive, ample, and elaborate, and deals with the whole subject systematically."—Atheneum.

"A work of great practical value, which bids fair to stand, for many years to come, the chief practical authority on the subject."—Military Spectator.

"A comprehensive dissertation, abounding in information, and full of suggestions which appear to us well worthy attention."—Spectator.

"We strenuously recommend to the scientific gunsmith, to sporting and military men, these valuable practical observations."—Daily Telegraph.

"There is no man who is so capable of treating of these matters as Mr. Greener. The importance of opinion upon all questions connected with Gunnery is not to be questioned."—Critic.

"An acceptable contribution to professional literature, written in a popular style."—United Service Magazine.

"The most interesting work of the kind that has come under our notice."—Saturday Review.

Phantastes: a Faerie Romance for Men and Women. By GEORGE MACDONALD, Author of "Within and Without." Post 8vo, price 10s. 6d. cloth.

"Phantastes" is, in some respects, original; we know of nothing with which it can be fairly compared. It must be read, and re-read. There is an indescribable, nameless grace in the mixture of deep thought and bright coloured fancy which pervades the whole."—Globe.

"Phantastes" will be read for its story—for its hidden meaning and solemn teaching."—New Quarterly.

"The work is one which will form a source of agreeable reading to many. It is replete with wild imagery, strange flights of fancy, and beautiful descriptions of nature."—Daily Telegraph.

"Not without fine fancy, considerable invention, and an occasional vein of real poetic feeling."—Leader.

"The whole book is instinct with poetry, with delicate perception of the hidden emotions of the soul, with thought, and with ideal truth. The story is in fact a parable—an allegory of human life, its temptations and its sorrows."—Literary Gazette.

The Education of the Human Race. Now first Translated from the German of Lessing.

Fcap. 8vo, antique cloth, price 4s.

 This remarkable work is now first published in English.

"An agreeable and flowing translation of one of Lessing's finest Essays."—National Review.

"The Essay makes quite a gem in its English form."—Westminster Review.

"This invaluable tract."—Critic.

"A little book on a great subject, and one which, in its day, exercised no slight influence upon European thought."—Inquirer.

Homely Ballads for the Working Man's Fireside. By MARY SEWELL.

Seventh Thousand. Post 8vo, cloth, One Shilling.

"Very good verses conveying very useful lessons."—Literary Gazette.

"Simple poems, well suited to the taste of the classes for whom they are written."—Globe.

"There is a real homely flavour about them, and they contain sound and wholesome lessons."—Critic.

The Endowed Schools of Ireland. By HARRIET MARTINEAU.

8vo, 3s. 6d., cloth, boards.

"The friends of education will do well to possess themselves of this book."—Spectator.

Esmond. By W. M. THACKERAY, Esq.

A New Edition, being the Third, in One Volume, Crown 8vo, price 6s. cloth.

"Apart from its special merits 'Esmond' must be read just now as an introduction to 'The Virginians.' It is quite impossible fully to understand and enjoy the latter story without a knowledge of 'Esmond.' The new tale is in the strictest sense the sequel of the old, not only introducing the same characters, but continuing their history at a later period."—Leader.

"The book has the great charm of reality. Queen Anne's colonel writes his life—and a very interesting life it is—just as a Queen Anne's colonel might be supposed to have written it. Mr. Thackeray has selected for his hero a very noble type of the cavalier suffering into the man of the eighteenth century, and for his heroine, one of the sweetest women that ever breathed from canvas or from book among Thackeray painted and Shakespeare wrote."—Spectator.

"The interest of 'Esmond' is in the main purely human interest; the heart of the story has been the first object of consideration. It is more than anything a family story. The pleasure comes from the development and display of character."—Daily News.

"Once more we feel that we have before us a masculine and thoroughly English writer, unting the power of subtle analysis, with a strong volition and a moving eloquence—an eloquence which has gained in richness and harmony. 'Esmond' must be read, not for its characters, but for its romantic plot, its spirited grouping, and its many thrilling utterances of the anguish of the human heart."—Atheneum.

"This is the best work of its kind that has been published for many years. As a picture of the social life and manners of English society in the reign of Queen Anne, it must long remain unrivalled."—Atlas.

"There is a higher literary power, and a kindler and truer humanity in this work than in any of its author's former productions."—Fraser's Magazine.

"The story of the novel is ingenious, and very elegantly constructed, and carried onward so as to gratify constant curiosity until the end."—Examiner.

"As a work of art—in thought—in harmony—in finish—'Esmond' ranks greatly above anything which Mr. Thackeray has yet produced."—British Quarterly.

Eight Months’ Campaign against the Bengal Sepoys, during the Mutiny, 1857. By Colonel George BOURCHIER, C.B., Bengal Horse Artillery. With Plans. Post 8vo, price 7s. 6d. cloth.

"Col. Bourchier has given a right manly, fair, and forcible statement of events, and the reader will derive much pleasure and instruction from his pages."—Athenæum.

"Col. Bourchier describes the various operations of many years' fighting with as much pleasure and as rare as the clear, manly style in which they are narrated."—Literary Gazette.

"Col. Bourchier relates his adventures in a free and graceful manner, never giving an undue prominence to his own actions, and never withholding praise from the valiant deeds of others."—Critic.

"None who really desire to be more than very superficially acquainted with the rise and progress of the rebellion may consider their studies complete until they have read Col. Bourchier's. The neatly engraved plans from the Colonel's sketches confer additional value upon his contribution to the literature of the Indian war."—Leader.

Narrative of the Mission from the Governor-General of India to the Court of Ava in 1855. With Notices of the Country, Government, and People. By CAPTAIN HENRY YULE, Bengal Engineers.

Imperial 8vo, with 24 Plates (12 coloured), 50 Woodcuts, and 4 Maps. Elegantly bound in cloth, with gilt edges, price 2l. 12s. 6d.

"A stately volume in gorgeous golden covers. Such a book is in our times a rarity. Large, large, and beautiful in form. It is illustrated by a sprinkling of elegant woodcuts, and by a series of admirable tinted lithographs. We have read it with curiosity and gratification, as a fresh, fall, and luminous report upon the condition of one of the most interesting divisions of Asia beyond the Ganges."—Athenæum.

"Captain Yule has brought to his narrative a knowledge of many languages, which is the main help to observation. He has a taste in architecture, art, and the connate sciences, as well as much information on the history and religion of the Burmese. . . . His description of these things, especially of the antiquities, are not only curious in themselves, but for the speculations they open up of the Burman style, and the splendour of the empire, centuries ago."—Spectator.

"Captain Yule, in the preparation of the splendid volume before us, has availed himself of the labours of those who preceded him. To all who are desirous of possessing the best and fullest account that has ever been given to the public, of a great, and hitherto little known region of the globe, the interesting conceits, and well-written work of Captain Yule will have a deep interest, while to the political economist, geographer, and merchant it will be indispensable."—Examiner.

"Thank you, Munshi Lutfullah Khan! We have read your book with wonder and delight. Your adventures are more curious than you are aware of; a man you forget is charging you for its genuineness. . . . This story will aid, in its degree, to some sort of understanding of the Indian Insurrection. The adventures of Munshi Lutfullah, however strange, are of less interest than his views and opinions. The first tells us chiefly of an individual; the others present us a race. Professor Eastwick has done a grateful service in making known this valuable volume."—Athenæum.

"Read fifty volumes of travel, and a thousand imitations of the Oriental novel, and you will not get the flavour of Eastern life and thought, or the zest of its romance, so perfectly as in Lutfullah's book. The book, to be appreciated, must be read from the first to the last page."—Spectator.

"This is a remarkable book. We have autobiographies in abundance of Englishmen, Frenchmen, and Germans; but of Anatics and Mahomets, few or none. . . . As the autobiography of a Mahometan, this is in every way singularly interesting. As the observations of an eyewitness of our Indian possessions and our policy and proceedings in the peninsula, it possesses a value of its own, quite distinct from any European memorials on the same subjects."—Standard.

"This is the freshest and most original work that it has been our good fortune to meet with for long. It bears every trace of being a most genuine account of the feelings and doings of the author. The whole tone of the book, the turn of every thought, the association of ideas, the allusions, are all fresh to the English reader; it opens up a new vein, and many will be astonished to find how rich a vein it is. Lutfullah is by no means an ordinary specimen of his race. . . . Everything which contributes to give us a right understanding of the character of our Indian subjects is of importance; in this light we consider Lutfullah's autobiography no less valuable than entertaining. It gives, too, a few indications of the character we bear in the eyes of the natives."—Economist.

"This remarkable autobiography reads like a mixture of the Life and Adventure of Gil Blas, with those of the Three Caballeros. . . . Every one who is interested in the present state of matters in India should read Lutfullah's own account of himself and his people, as well as their peculiar and general feeling towards the Persians."—Globe.

"It is readable, instructive, and entertaining, and it is most creditable to its author."—Saturday Review.

"As an autobiography, the book is very curious. It bears the strongest resemblance to Gil Blas of anything we have ever read."—Spectator.

Life and Correspondence of Lord Metcalfe.
By JOHN WILLIAM KAYE.

"Lord Metcalfe possessed extraordinary opportunities of making himself acquainted with the native character, and of estimating at its correct value the nature of the tenure by which our Indian possessions were held: and at the present time we can value more highly the great practical discernment of dangers that threatened our Indian empire remarkably shown. Both in size and price the new edition is a great improvement on the earlier work."

"Mr. Kaye's life of Lord Metcalfe is a work too well known to need an extended notice; but there is something to be said for this republication. It is an edition revised with care and judgment. Mr. Kaye has judiciously condensed that portion of his original work which relates to the earlier career of the great Indian statesman. Another improvement in the work will be found in the augmentation of that part setting forth Lord Metcalfe's views of the insecurity of our Indian empire. The insecurity which cast a gloom over Metcalfe's predictions has been fearfully verified by the events of 1857."—Globe.

"A much improved edition of one of the most interesting political biographies in English literature."—National Review.

The Life and Correspondence of Sir John Malcolm, G.C.B. By JOHN WILLIAM KAYE.

Two Volumes, 8vo. With Portrait. Price 36s. cloth.

"The biography is replete with interest and information, deserving to be perused by the student of Indian history, and with some hesitation to recommend itself to the general reader."—Athenaeum.

"One of the most interesting of the recent biographies of one who stands in our history as a statesman."

"National Review.

"This book deserves to participate in the popularity which it was the good fortune of Sir John Malcolm to enjoy."—Edinburgh Review.

"Mr. Kaye has handled the materials well, and has written an interesting narrative, copiously illustrated from valuable documents."—Examiner.

"There are a great many matters of general interest in those volumes. Not a little of the spirit of Arthur Wellesley runs through the book."—Globe.

"Thoroughly agreeable, instructive reading."—Westminster Review.

"A very valuable contribution to our Indian literature, and to our knowledge of Sir John Malcolm, to all who desire to learn something of the history of British India."—North Quaterly Review.

"Mr. Kaye's biography is at once a contribution to the history of our policy and dominion in the East, and a personal memorial of one of the portion and large hearted men whose energy and principles have made England great."—British Quarterly Review.

The Parsees: their History, Religion, Manners, and Customs. By DOSABHOY FRAMJEEL.

By Capt. Thos. F. Wilson, 13th Bengal N.I., Assistant-Adjutant-General.

Sixth Thousand. With Plan of the Residency. Small post 8vo., price 2s. 6d.

"Unadorned and simple, the story is, nevertheless, an eloquent one. It must be laid down until the last line has been read."—Leader.

"The Staff-Officer’s Diary is simple and brief, and has a special interest, inasmuch as it gives a fuller account than we have elsewhere seen of those operations which were the chief human means of salvation to our friends in Lucknow. The Staff-Officer brings home to us, by his details, the nature of that underground contest, upon the result of which the fate of the beleaguered garrison especially depended."—Examiner.

"We commend the Staff-Officer’s Diary for its unostentatious relation of facts, recorded with a degree of distinctness that vouches for the authenticity of the writer’s statement."—Press.

"The Staff-Officer supplies exact military information with brevity and distinctness."—Globe.

Tiger-Shooting in India. By LIEUTENANT WILLIAM RICE, 25th Bombay N.I.

Super Royal 8vo. With Twelve Plates in Chromo-lithography. 21s. cloth.

"These adventures, told in handsome large print, with spirited chromo-lithographs to illustrate them, make the volume before us an pleasant reading as an account of sporting achievements we have ever taken in hand."—Athenæum.

"A remarkably pleasant book of adventures during several seasons of ‘large game’ hunting in Rajputana. The twelve chromo-lithographs are very valuable accessories to the narrative; they have wonderful spirit and freshness."—Globe.

"A good volume of wild sport, abounding in adventure, and handsomely illustrated with coloured plates from spirited designs by the author."—Examiner.

The Commerce of India with Europe, and its Political Effects. By B. A. IRVING, Esq.

Views and Opinions of Brigadier-General Jacob, C.B. Edited by Captain Lewis Pelly.

Demy 8vo, price 12s. cloth.

"The statesmanlike views and broad opinions enunciated in this work would command attention under any circumstances, but coming from one of such experience and authority they are doubly valuable, and merit the consideration of legislators and politicians."—Sun.

"The facts in this book are worth looking at, if the reader desires to take a peep into the interior of the mind of a great man, let him make acquaintance with the ‘Views and Opinions of General Jacob.’"—Globe.

"This is truly a gallant and soldierly book; very Napoleonian in its self-confidence, in its capital sense, and in its devotedness to professional honor and the public good. The book should be studied by all who are interested in the choice of a new government for India."—Daily News.

Papers of the late Lord Metcalfe. Selected and Edited by J. W. KAYE. Demy 8vo, price 16s. cloth.

"We commend this volume to all persons who wish to study state papers, in which the practical sense of a man of the world is joined to the speculative sagacity of a philosophical statesman. No Indian library should be without it."—Press.

The Life of Mahomet and History of Islam to the Era of the Hegira. By WILLIAM MUIR, Esq., Bengal Civil Service. Two volumes 8vo., price 32s. cloth.

"The most perfect life of Mahomet in the English language, or perhaps in any other. The work is at once learned and interesting, and it cannot fail to be eagerly perused by all persons having any pretensions to historical knowledge."—Observer.
MR. RUSKIN'S WORKS ON ART.

The Two Paths: being Lectures on Art, and its relation to Manufactures and Decoration. One Volume, Crown 8vo, with Two Steel Engravings, price 7s. 6d. cloth.

"The meaning of the title of this book is, that there are two courses open to the artist, one of which will lead him to that which is noble in art, and will incidentally exalt his moral nature; while the other will deteriorate his work and help to throw obstacles in the way of his individual morality. . . . They all contain many useful distinctions, acute remarks, and valuable suggestions, and are everywhere lit up with that glow of fervid eloquence which has so materially contributed to the author's reputation."—Press.

"The Two Paths" contains much eloquent description, places in a clear light some forgotten or neglected truths, and, like all Mr. Ruskin's books, is eminently suggestive."—Literary Gazette.

"This book is well calculated to encourage the humblest worker, and stimulate him to artistic effort."—Leader.

Lectures on Architecture and Painting.

"Mr. Ruskin's lectures—elegant, graphic, and impassioned—expose and ridiculing some of the vices of our present system of building, and exciting his hearers by strong motives of duty and pleasure to attend to architecture—are very successful."—Economist.

"We conceive it to be impossible that any intelligent persons could listen to the lectures, however they might differ from the judgments asserted, and from the general propositions laid down, without an elevating influence and an aroused enthusiasm."—Spectator.

Modern Painters, Vol. IV. On Mountain Beauty. Imperial 8vo, with Thirty-five Illustrations engraved on Steel, and 116 Woodcuts, drawn by the Author. Price 2l. 10s. cloth.

"The present volume of Mr. Ruskin's elaborate work treats chiefly of mountain scenery, and discusses at length the principles involved in the pleasure we derive from mountains and their pictorial representation. The singular beauty of his style, the hearty sympathy with all forms of natural loveliness, the profusion of his illustrations, form irresistible attractions."—Daily News.

"Considered as an illustrated work, this is the most valuable and handsomely issued. The plates and woodcuts are profuse, and include numerous drawings of mountain form by the author, which prove Mr. Ruskin to be essentially an artist. He is a unique man, both among artists and writers."—Spectator.

"The fourth volume brings fresh stores of wondrous eloquence, close and patient observations, and subtle disquisition. Such a writer is a national possession. He adds to our store of knowledge and enjoyment."—Leader.

The Stones of Venice.

Complete in Three Volumes, Imperial 8vo, with Fifty-three Plates and numerous Woodcuts, drawn by the Author. Price 5l. 15s. 6d., cloth.

Each Volume may be had separately.

Vol. I. THE FOUNDATIONS, with 21 Plates, price 2l. 2s. 2nd Edition.

Vol. II. THE SEA STORIES, with 20 Plates, price 2l. 2s.

Vol. III. THE FALL, with 12 Plates, price 1l. 11s. 6d.

"The 'Stones of Venice' is the production of an earnest, religious, progressive, and informed mind. The author of this essay on architecture has condensed it into a poetic oration, the fruits of awe of God, and delight in nature; a knowledge, love, and just estimate of art; a hoarding fast to fact and repudiation of hearsay; an historic breadth, and a fearless challenge of existing social problems, whose union we know not where to find paralleled."—Spectator.

The Seven Lamps of Architecture.

Second Edition, with Fourteen Plates drawn by the Author. Imperial 8vo.

Price 1l. 1s. cloth.

"By 'The Seven Lamps of Architecture,' we understand Mr. Ruskin to mean the Seven fundamental and cardinal laws, the observance of and obedience to, which are indispensable to the architect, who would deserve the name. The politician, the moralist, the diviner, will find in it ample store of instructive matter, as well as the artist. The author of this work belongs to a class of thinkers of whom we have too few amongst us."—Examiner.

The Political Economy of Art. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"Mr. Ruskin's book bears so unmistakably the marks of keen and accurate observation, of a true and subtle judgment and refined sense of beauty, joined with so much earnestness, so noble a sense of the purposes and business of art, and such a command of rich and glowing language, that it cannot but tell powerfully in producing a more religious view of the uses of architecture, and a deeper insight into its artistic principles."—Guardian.

ANNALS OF BRITISH LEGISLATION, A CLASSIFIED SUMMARY OF PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS, Ed. by Professor Leone Levi. The yearly issue consists of 1,000 pages, super royal 8vo, and the Subscription is Two Guinea, payable in advance. The Twenty-ninth Part is just issued, commencing the Third Year's Issue. Volumes I. to IV. may be had, price 4½. 4s. cloth.

"A seriés that will, if it be always managed as it now is by Professor Levi, last as long as there remains a Legislature in Great Britain. These Annals are to give the essence of work done and information garnered for the State during each legislative year, a summary description of every Act passed, a digest of the vital facts contained in every Blue Book issued, and of all documents relating to the public business of the country. The series will live, while generations of men die, if it be maintained in its old age as ably and as conscientiously as it is now in its youth."

— Athenæum.

"The idea was admirable, nor does the execution fall short of the plan. To accomplish this effectively, and at the same time briefly, was not an easy task: but Professor Levi has undertaken it with great success. The work is essentially a guide. It will satisfy those persons who refer to it merely for general purposes, while it will direct the research of others whose investigations take a wider range."

LECTURES ON THE ENGLISH HUMOURISTS OF THE 18TH CENTURY. BY W.M. THACKERAY, Author of "Vanity Fair," "The Virginians," &c. Price 2s. 6d. cl.

"What fine things these lectures contain; what eloquent and audacious sayings; what wise and earnest writing; how delightfully are their turns of humour; with what a touching effect in the grazer passages the genuine feeling of the man comes out, and how vividly the thoughts are picturised, as it were, in graphic and characteristic words."—Examiner.

"This is to us by far the most acceptable of Mr. Thackeray's writings. His graphic style, his philosophical spirit, his intrepid powers, his large heartedness, his shrewdness, and his gentle humour, all room to exhibit themselves."—Economist.

"Full of sound, healthy, manly, vigorous writing; sagacious in observation, indomitable and thoughtful, earnest in some passages. In style, pointed, clear, and straightforward."—Westminster Review.

"The Lectures are a valuable addition to our permanent literature; eloquent when the author is serious; brilliant when he is gay—they are charming reading."—Daily News.

"To those who attended the lectures the book will be a pleasant reminder, to others an exciting novelty. The style—clear, idiomatic, forcible, familiar, but never slovenly; the searching strokes of sarcasm or irony; the occasional flashes of generous scorn; the touches of pathos, pity, and tenderness; the morality tempered but never weakened by experience; the pathos; the felicitous phrases, the striking anecdote, the passages of wise, practical reflection; all these show much less than we could have expected from the absence of the voice, manner, and look of the lecturer."—Spectator.

"We have been charmed beyond expectation with the reading of these Essays.... They are truly beautiful, suggestive Essays, on topics fertile in suggestion; they are unfailingly humorous, pathetic, subtle, picturesque, and thoughtful. Thackeray's style, half sad, half playful, is seen to perfection in this volume."—Leader.

"It is not easy to say or show how exceedingly rich it is in reflection, in wisdom, in wit and humour, in general feelings, and in expressive language."—Nonconformist.

THE TOWN: ITS MEMORABLE CHARACTERS AND EVENTS. By LEIGH HUNT. With 45 Engravings. Price 2s. 6d. cl.

"We will allow no higher enjoyment for a rational Englishman than to stroll leisurely through this magnificent town, arm in arm with Mr. Leigh Hunt. The charm of Mr. Hunt's book is, that he gives us the outpourings of a mind enriched with the most agreeable knowledge; there is not one page which does not glow with interest. It is a series of pictures from the life, reproducing scenes in which every inhabitant of the metropolis has an interest."—Times.

"The Town is a book for all places and all persons: for the study, when one is tired of labour; for the drawing-room, parlour, carriage, or steam-boat."—Spectator.

"This is one of the very pleasantest works of Leigh Hunt. We are never out of sight of sovereigns or subjects, notable buildings and the buildings thereof, booksellers and booksellers, players and players, men about town, and the haunts where they drink their wine and tappe one another's whiskers."— letters.

THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF ART. By JOHN RUSKIN, M.A. Price 2s. 6d. cl.

"A most able, eloquent, and well-timed work. We hail it with satisfaction, thinking it calculated to do much practical good, and we cordially recommend it to our readers."—Times.

"Mr. Ruskin's chief purpose is to treat the artist's power, and the art itself, as items of the world's wealth, and to show how these may be best evolved, produced, accumulated, and distributed."—Atheneum.

"We never quit Mr. Ruskin without being the better for what he has told us, and therefore we recommend this little volume, like all his other works to the perusal of our readers."—Economist.

"This book, daring as it is, glance keenly at principles, of which some are among the articles of ancient codes, while others are evolving slowly to the light."—Leader.

JANE EYRE. By CURRER BELL. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"'Jane Eyre' is a remarkable production—freshness and originality, truth and passion, singular felicity in the description of natural scenery and in the analysis of human thought, enable this tale to stand boldly out from the mass, and to assume its own place in the bright field of romantic literature."—Times.

"'Jane Eyre' is a book of decided power. The thoughts are true, sound, and original; and the style is resolute, straightforward, and to the purpose. The obvious moral of the work is excellent."—Examiner.

"A very pathetic tale; very singular, and so like life, that it is difficult to avoid believing that much of the characters and incidents are taken from life. It is an episode in this work of everyday life, most interesting, and touched at once with a daring and delicate hand. It is a book for the enjoyment of a feeling heart and vigorous understanding."—Blackwood's Magazine.

"For many years there has been no work of such power, piquancy, and originality. Its very faults are on the side of vigour, and its beauties are all original. It is a book of singular fascination and interest."—Observer.

"Almost all that we require in a novelist the writer has: perception of character and power of delineating it; picturesqueness, passion, and knowledge of life. Reality—deep, significant reality—is the characteristic of this book."—Fraser's Magazine.

SHIRLEY. By CURRER BELL. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"The peculiar power which was so greatly admired in 'Jane Eyre' is not absent from this book. It possesses deep interest, and an irresistible grasp of reality. There is a vividness and distinctness of conception in it quite marvellous. The power of graphic delineation and expression is intense. There are scenes whose power for strength and delicacy of emotion, are not transcended in the range of English fiction."—Examiner.

"'Shirley' is an admirable book; totally free from that vulgarity and over-sensitiveness of any kind; genuine English in the independence and uprightness of the tone of thought, in the purity of heart and feeling which pervade it; genuine English in the masculine vigour or rough originality of its conception of character; and genuine English in style and diction."—Morning Chronicle.

"The same piercing and loving eye, and the same bold and poetic imagery, are exhibited here as in 'Jane Eyre.' Similar power is manifested in the delineation of character. With a few brief vigorous touches, the picture starts into distinctness."—Edinburgh Review.

"Shirley is very clever. It could not be otherwise. The faculty of graphic description, strong imagination, fervid and masculine diction, analysis and invention, is indefatigable. Gems of rare thought and glorious passion shine here and there."—Times.

"Shirley is a book demanding close personal and careful consideration."—Allgemeine.

"'Shirley' is a novel of remarkable power and brilliancy; it is calculated to rouse attention, excite interest, and keep the faculties in eager and impatient suspense."—Morning Post.

"'Shirley' is the anatomy of the female heart. It is a book which indicates exquisite feeling, and very strong powers of the writer. The women are all divine."—Daily News.

VILLETTE. By CURRER BELL. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"'Villette' is a most remarkable work—a production altogether out of the ordinary. Fullness and vigour of thought mark almost every sentence, and there is a sort of easy path that enables the reader to follow the whole narrative such as we have rarely met."—Edinburgh Review.

"This novel simply sustains the name of the author of 'Jane Eyre,' and 'Shirley.'"—New York Times.

"Villette is a most admirably written novel, everywhere original, everywhere tender, and we are not ashamed to confess that we have read it with avidity."—Edinburgh Review.

"There is throughout a charm of freshness which is infinitely delightful; freshness in observation, freshness in feeling, freshness in expression."—Literary Gazette.

"The tale is one of the affections, and remarkable as a picture of manners. A burning heart glows throughout it, and one brilliantly distinct character keeps it alive."—Observer.

"'Villette' is crowded with beauties, with good things, for which we look to the clear night, deep country, and the evening. The author has unfolded to us the experience of life, which we associate with the name of Currier Bell. Daily News.

"'Villette' is entitled to take a very high place in the literature of fiction. The reader will find characters nobly conceived and powerfully depicted: he will discover much quiet humour, a lively wit, bright dialogue, vivid descriptions, and reflections both new and true, sentiment free from cant and conventionality, and bursts of eloquence and poetry, flashing here and there."—Critic.

"The fascination of genius dwells in this book, which is, in our judgment, superior to any of Currier Bell's previous efforts. For originality of conception, grasp of character, elaboration and consistency of detail, and picturesque force of expression, few works in the English language can stand the test of comparison with it."—Morning Post.

WUTHERING HEIGHTS AND AGNES GREY. By ELLIS AND ACTON BELL. With Memoir by CURRER BELL. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"There are passages in this book of 'Wuthering Heights,' of which any novelist, past or present, might be proud. But it is a book of Shelly style that he drew cases which the physician might study: Ellis Bell has done no less."—Daily News.

"There is, at all events, keeping in the book: the groups of figures and the scenery are in harmony with each other. There is a touch of Saviour Rosa in all."—Atlas.

"Wuthering Heights" bears the stamp of a profoundly individual, strong and passionate mind. The memoir is one of the most touching chapters in literary biography."—Nonconformist.

A LOST LOVE. By ASHFORD OWEN.

Price 2s. cloth.

"'A Lost Love' is a story full of grace and genius. No outline of the story would give any idea of its beauty or its freshness. A tale at once moving and winning, natural and romantic, and certain to raise all the finer sympathies of the reader's nature."—Times.

"A real picture of woman's life."—Westminster Review.

"A very beautiful and touching story. It is true to nature, and appeals to all who have not forgotten love and life itself."—Quarterly Review.

"A striking and original story, a work of genius and sensibility."—Saturday Review.

"This volume displays unquestionable genius, and that of a high order."—Lady's Newspaper.

DEERBROOK. By Harriet Martineau. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"This popular fiction presents a true and animated picture of country life among the upper middle classes of English residents, and is remarkable for its interest, arising from the influence of various characters upon each other, and the effect of ordinary circumstances upon them. The descriptions of rural scenery, and the daily pursuits in village hours, are among the most charming of the author's writings; but the way in which exciting incidents gradually arise out of the most ordinary phases of life, and the skill with which natural and every-day characters are brought out in dramatic situations, attest the power of the author's genius."

TALES OF THE COLONIES.
By Charles Rowcoft. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"Tales of the Colonies" is an able and interesting book. The author has the first great requisite in fiction—a knowledge of the life he undertakes to describe; and his matter is solid and real. — Spectator.

"It combines the fidelity of truth with the spirit of a romance, and has altogether much of the life and character and composition." — Literary Gazette.

"Since the time of Robinson Crusoe, literature has produced nothing like these "Tales of the Colonies."" — Metropolitan Magazine.

"This is a singular work. No mere romance, no mere fiction, however sagaciously managed or powerfully executed, can surpass it. The work to which it bears the nearest similarity is Robinson Crusoe, and it is scarcely, if at all, inferior to that extraordinary history." — John Bull.

ROMANTIC TALES (including "Avillion"). By the Author of "John Halifax, Gentleman." A new edition. Price 2s. 6d. cloth.

"In a nice knowledge of the refinements of the female heart, and in a happy power of depicting emotion, the author has excelled by very few story-tellers of the day." — Globe.

"As pleasant and fanciful a miscellany as has been given to the public in these latter days." — Athenæum.

"Avillion" is a beautiful and fanciful story, and the rest make very pleasant reading. There is not one of them unenlightened by true feeling, exquisite taste, and a pure and vivid imagination." — Examiner.

PAUL FERROLL. Fourth edition, price 2s. cloth.

"We have seldom read so wonderful a romance. We can find no fault in it as a work of art. It leaves us in admiration, almost in awe, of the powers of its author."—New Quarterly.

"The art displayed in presenting Paul Ferroll throughout the story is beyond all praise."—Examiner.

"The incidents of the book are extremely well managed." — Athenæum.

"Paul Ferroll" is a book that will be very much read, talked about, and talked over. — Morning Post.

"The fruit of much thoughtful investigation is represented to us in the character of Paul Ferroll. . . . We do not need to be told how he felt and why he acted thus and thus; it will be obvious to most readers from the very opening pages. But the power of the story is not weakened by this early knowledge; rather is it heightened, since the artistic form of contrast is grand and fearful in the two figures who cling so closely together in their fond human love."—Morning Chronicle.

"Paul Ferroll" is a most strikingly original production. It may be regarded as a phenomenon in literature—a book that must be read, and cannot be forgotten." — Morning Post.

"To all the elements of powerful effect, the story adds the merit of being ably and forcibly written."—John Bull.

Paul Ferroll is an original conception wrought out with marvellous skill and mastery of language. It is by far the most extraordinary work of modern times."—Illustrated News of the World.

"Paul Ferroll" is one of the novels of this generation that will be read by the next." — Globe.

SCHOOL FOR FATHERS.
By Talbot Gwynne. Price 2s. 6d.

"The School for Fathers" is one of the cleverest, most brilliant, gayest, and instructive stories that we have read since the publication of "Jane Eyre." — Eclectic Review.

The pleasantest tale we have read for many a day. It is a story of the Tatter and Spectator days, and is very skillfully associated with that time of good English literature by its manly feeling, direct, unaffected manner of writing, and nicely managed, well-tuned narrative. The descriptions are excellent; some of the country painting is as fresh as a landscape by Alfred Constable, or an idyl by Tennyson." — Examiner.

"A capital picture of town and country a century ago; and is emphatically the freshest, raciest, and most amissic piece of fiction that has lately come in our way."—Nonconformist.

"The School for Fathers" is at once highly amusing and deeply interesting—full of that genuine humour which is half-pathos—and written with a freshness of feeling and raciness of style which entitle it to be called a tale of the 'Vicar of Wakefield' school."—Britannica.

"A tale, hearty, unaffected, honest, downright English tale. A vigorous painting of English men and manners, by an artist who is thoroughly national in his genius, taste, education, and production."—Globe.

"A capital story, illustrating our town and country life a hundred years ago."—British Quarterly.

THE WHITE HOUSE BY THE SEA: A LOVE STORY.

"A novel made as a whole, simple, in the form of an autobiography."—Leader.

MAUD SKILLICORNE'S PENANCE.

"It is a well concocted tale, and will be very palatable to novel readers."—Morning Post.
SMITH, ELDER AND CO.

THE PROFESSOR. By CURRER BELL. 2 vols.

"We think the author's friends have shown sound judgment in publishing the 'Professor,' now that she is gone. It shows the first signs of fall, and ripened into the greatest creations of her imagination. At the same time her admirers were surprised, but when they counselled her not to publish it in her lifetime. . . But it abounds in merit."—Saturday Review.

"The idea is original, and we every here and there detect germ of that power which took the world by storm in 'Jane Eyre.' The rejection of the 'Professor' was, in our opinion, no less advantageous to the young authoress than expeditious to the editor. We offer it to the booksellers."—Press.

"This book, which throws light upon the growth and composition of such a mind cannot be otherwise than interesting. In the 'Professor' we may discover the germ of many trains of thinking, which afterwards came to be unravelled and illustrated in subsequent and more perfect works."—Critic.

"There is much new insight in this novel, and extremely characteristic of genius, and one character; moreover, of freshness, lightness, and more airy grace."—Remembrancer.

"We have read it with the deepest interest, and candidly predict that this legacy of Charlotte Bronte's genius will receive and confirm the general admiration of her extraordinary powers."—Eclectic.

RIVERSTON. By GEORGIANA M. CRAIK. 3 vols.

"It is highly moral in its tone and character, as well as deeply interesting, and written in an excellent style."—Morning Herald.

"A very good novel. The book is a very clever one, containing much good writing, well discriminated sketches of character, and a story told so as to bind the reader pretty closely to the text."— Examiner.

"Miss Craik is a very lively writer; she has wit, and a very happy sense, and she has made in the beautiful young governess, with her strong will, slyly independent, and promptness of repartee, an interesting picture."—Press.

"Miss Craik writes well; she can paint character, passages, manners, with a considerable effect; her dialogue flows easily and expressively."—Daily News.

"A production of no little merit, and qualified to interest as well as young."—Leader.

"Decidedly a clever book, giving hopes of a capacity in the writer for better things in the future."—Remembrancer.

"The author shows great command of language, a force and clearness of expression not often met with. We offer a warm welcome to Miss Craik, and we shall look with Interest for her next work."—Athenæum.

FARINA. By GEORGE MEREDITH. 1 vol.

"A masque of ravishers in steel, of robber knights, of wayward wood arrows, more ravishing than lovely. It has also a brave and tender deliverer, and a heroine proper for a romance of Cologne. Those who love a real, lively, audacious piece of extravagance, by way of a charge, will enjoy 'Farina.'—Talked of as an original and entertaining book."—Westminster Review.

"We cordially recommend it for general purchase."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Farina cannot fail to amuse the most sober minded reader."—Critic.

"It has a true Hebridean flavour."—Press.

BELOW THE SURFACE. 3 vols.

"The book is unquestionably clever and entertaining. The writer develops from first to last his double view of life human, as coloured by the manners of our age. . . . It is a ten superior to ordinary merit, it's a race of books to the phases of actual life."—Athenæum.

"There is a great deal of cleverness in this story, a much greater knowledge of country life and character in its various aspects and conditions than is possessed by nine-tenths of the novelists who undertake to describe it."—Spectator.

"The novel is one that keeps the attention fixed, and it is written in a calm, often playful tone. The temper is throughout excellent."—Examiner.

"This is a book which possesses the rare merit of being exactly what it claims to be, a story of English country life, and, moreover, a very well told story."—Daily News.

"Below the Surfaces" merits high praise. It is full of good things: good taste; good feeling; good writing; good notions, and high morality."—Globe.

"Temperate, sensible, kindly, and pleasant."—Saturday Review.

"A more pleasant story we have not read for many a day."—British Quarterly.

THE ROUA PASS. By ERICK MACKENZIE. 3 vols.

"It is seldom that we have to notice so good a novel as the 'Roua Pass.' The story is well contrived and well told; the incidents are natural and varied; several of the characters are skilfully drawn, and that of the heroine is fresh, powerful, and original. The Highland scenery, in which the plot is laid, is described with truth and feeling—with a command of language which leaves a vivid impression."—Saturday Review.

"The attractions of the story are numerous and varied, and that it would be difficult to single out any one point of it for attention. It is a brilliant social picture of stirring scenes and striking adventures."—Sun.

"The 'Roua Pass' is a work of very great promise. It is beautifully written. The romance is ingenious and interesting: the story never flags."—Critic.

"The peculiar charm of the novel is its skilful painting of the Highlands, and of life among the Highlanders. On his observation and a true sense of the poetry in nature and human life, the author has."—Remembrancer.

"A capital fiction. As a landscape novel, it is altogether delightful."—Globe.

"The Roua Pass is a great novel— the best of the season."—Westminster Review.

"This is a very good novel."—Guardian.

"The 'Noble Traytour' is a chronicle, interesting for its facts, interesting for its association, and, above all, interesting for the clear views which it gives of the modes of life in merry England, at the eventful period to which it refers."—Observer.

"It is as Elizabethan masquarade. Shakespeare, the Queen, Essex, Raleigh, and a hundred nobles, ladies, and gentlemen of the last, alive, vivid, audacious piece of extravagance, by way of a charge, will enjoy 'Farina.'—Talked of as an original and entertaining book."—Westminster Review.

"We cordially recommend it for general purchase."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Farina cannot fail to amuse the most sober minded reader."—Critic.

"It has a true Hebridean flavour."—Press.

KATHIE BRANDE. By HOLME LEE. 2 vols.

"Kathie Brande's is not merely a very interesting novel—It is a very wholesome one, for it teaches virtue by example."—Critic.

"Throughout 'Kathie Brande' there is much sweetness, and considerable power of description."—Saturday Review.

"Kathie Brande's is intended to illustrate the paramount excellence of duty as a moving principle. It is full of beauties."—Daily News.

"Certainly one of the best novels that we have lately read."—Guardian.

"The ablest novel that has appeared for many a day."—Literary Gazette.

"This story has a touching interest, which lingers with the reader after he has closed the book."—Athenaeum.

"The tone is good and healthy; the religious feeling sound and true, and well sustained."—Guardian.

"This is a novel, written with a strong sense both of what is amusing and what is right."—Examiner.

"It is long, very long, since we have read a narrative of more power than this."—British Quarterly Review.

"This is a good and a noble book."—New Quarterly.

"Mr. Whitty is a genuine satirist, employing satire for a genuine purpose. You laugh with him very much; but the laughter is fruitful and ripe in thought. His style is serious, and his cast of mind severe. The author has a merriment skin to that of Jaques and that of Timon."—Athenaeum.

"Men and women as they are, and life as it is, might be the motto of Mr. Whitty's "Friends of Bohemia." Mr. Whitty is a satirist, and satirists forgets it. His dialogues are ripe and dramatic as those of a French novel, and perfectly natural."—Westminster Review.

"Friends of Bohemia" has the rare merit of painting clever pictures and of being sparkling and dramatic from beginning to end."—Daily News.

"The book is fresh and vigorous; the style is terse and lively."—New Quarterly.

THE EVE OF ST. MARK. By THOMAS DODGELAY. 2 vols.

"The Eve of St. Mark' is not only well written, but admirably constructed, and interesting. Its tone is perhaps too gorgeous; its movement is too much that of a masquerade; but the story is created, and a very lovable heroine is poured in."—Athenaeum.

"The Eve of St. Mark' is an interesting story, vividly coloured, and not a little dramatic in its construction. . . . The book is really a romance—a diorama of antique Venetian life."—Leader.

"It is the work of an artist, thoughtfully designed, and executed with elaborate pains, in all that relates to the accessories and colouring of the time. It will better than most novels of the day, repay attentive perusal."—Press.

"We can cordially recommend 'The Eve of St. Mark' as a well told, dramatically constructed tale."—Critic.

"In every way a striking romance. The plot of the tale is skilfully constructed, and the startling events are so dexterously introduced as not to appear improbable."—Sun.

LUCIAN PLAYFAIR. By THOMAS MACKERN. 3 vols.

"Mr. Wilkie Collins takes high rank among the few who can invent a thrilling story, and tell it with brief simplicity."—Globe.

"These stories possess all the author's well-known beauty of style and dramatic power."—New Quarterly Review.

FAMILIAR EXPLANATIONS OF NOTABLE SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERIES AND MECHANICAL INVENTIONS.
LIVELY ACCOUNTS OF THE GEOGRAPHY, INHABITANTS, AND PRODUCTIONS OF DIFFERENT COUNTRIES.

MISS EDGAR WORTH'S Opinion of the Parents' Cabinet:
"I almost feel afraid of praising it as much as I think it deserves. There is so much variety in the book that it cannot tire. It alternately excites and relieves attention, and does not lead to the bad habit of trifling away the mind by requiring no exertion from the reader. Whoever your scientific associate is, he understands his business and children's capabilities right well. Without lecturing, or prating, you keep the right and the wrong clearly marked, and hence all the sympathy of the young people is always enlisted on the right side."
