CONTENTS

Preface 9

CHARLES SANDERS PEIRCE

1 Introduction 12

2 The Bases of Peirce’s Pragmatism 17
   A His Theory of Truth 17
   B His Theory of Meaning 40
      1 What is Belief? 40
      2 Operations on Concepts 49
      3 Concessions to Realism 62

3 Peirce’s Philosophy of Science 74
   A The Three Kinds of Reasoning 74
   B The Justification of Induction 91
   C The Factor of Chance 103

Peirce’s Categories and His Theory of Signs 112
   A The Three Categories 112
      1 Feeling and Perception 112
      2 Facts and Laws 121
   B The Interpretation of Signs 130
   C The Divisions of Signs 147
      1 Types and Tokens 147
      2 Icons, Indices and Symbols 149
      3 Propositions and their Subjects 158
   D Appraisal of Peirce’s Theory of Signs 166
CONTENTS

WILLIAM JAMES

1 Introduction 183

2 The Will to Believe and the Pragmatic Theory of Truth 191
   A James's Emotional Commitments 191
   B The Nature of Truth 196
      1 Truth in Relation to Matters of Fact 202
      2 A priori Truths 205
      3 Moral and Aesthetic Judgements 208
   C The Will and its Freedom 212
   D The Place of Religious Belief 219

3 Radical Empiricism 224
   A The Data of Experience 224
      1 Sensation and Perception 224
      2 The Genesis of Space 233
      3 The Genesis of Time 243
      4 The Analysis of Memory 252
   B The Knower and the Known 256
      1 The Concept of the Self 256
      2 A Theory of Personal Identity 263
      3 Percepts and Concepts 288
   C The Construction of the Physical World 298
      1 Experiences in their Double Aspect 298
      2 The Basis of the Construction 303
      3 The Question of Privacy 311
      4 The Construction Outlined 321
      5 On What There Is 329

Index 337